<td>New IPE Committee Chair</td>
<td>Amy Chatfield is Acting Associate Director for Educational and Research Services and serves as the new IPE Committee Chair. She provided a brief recap of the goals of the IPE Committee. As there is no central body on the USC campus to organize and oversee IPE events, the IPE Committee has been established to provide a forum for faculty, staff, and students to generate new ideas, establish relationships, and collaborate on IPE projects across disciplines.</td>
<td></td>

<tr>
<td>Update on health fair data collection project.</td>
<td>Amy Chatfield and Ashley Halle have completed the Google form to collect data on the number and types of health fairs that USC is involved with. The form was sent out via the IPE listserv, however no data has been provided.</td>
<td>Amy Chatfield resent the form to the IPE listserv on 7/29/15.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Establishing a USC IPE Health Fair</td>
<td>Difficulty of establishing a USC IPE Health fair without a central coordinating body was discussed. The need to re-send the IPE Coordinator proposal now that there is a new provost was noted. Miriam Eshaghian discussed a student run IPE health fair that took place at the Boys and Girls Club of Pasadena in Nov. 2014. The event was organized by MAPSC and provided</td>
<td>Will revisit at next meeting to see who wants to take charge to select a fair and date. At next meeting, consider resending proposal for IPE coordinating body to Provost.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>List of IPE publications</td>
<td>A list of IPE publications (fairs, publications, presentations, &amp; posters) exists on the IPE portal http://norris.usc.libguides.com/ipe. This list is of value as it can easily be accessed to demonstrate IPE activities that have taken place at USC during site visits, for accreditation, or to potential funders. The list could have more “power” if it were organized as a functional annotated bibliography that notes the different groups that participated/contributed to each publication/event. Currently the list only contains publications from the Physician Assistant group.</td>
<td>Miriam Eshaghian will reach out to MAPSSC to see if they want to organize again for this year.</td>

Miriam Eshaghian is looking to connect students in two ways: 1) social events and 2) professional activities.

She presented a proposal for an Interdisciplinary Case Competition to take place this fall. The event would be modeled in the style of a CLARION Case Competition but rather than a clinical scenario, the case would focus on a more business/administrative IPE issue/theme, i.e. How to improve funding for interdisciplinary activities?

See links to CLARION examples at end of page.

The pilot event would consist of ~ 20 students: 5 groups of 4 students, representing at least 2 fields. Nursing students from Mt. St. Mary’ will be invited to participate as well.

Students will be given several weeks to come up with a solution and then present it to a panel of IPE experts.

Winners receive a cash prize. Up to $100 total.

Melissa Durham and Ashley Halle (for OT) volunteered to serve as advisors.

IPE members also advised that the competition should be designed to yield a publication, i.e. determine questions that want to answer upfront (knowledge gained, attitude, behavior), include pre/post test, measurement tool.

Miriam Eshaghian to forward proposal and sample case to IPE Committee.—sent at 9:30 am on 7/30/2015. Please review and provide comments to Miriam.

Melissa Durham will explore funding for cash prize. Possible donations from IPE Committee.

Phuu Han discussed an IPE Dental Panel to be held in the spring in lieu of IPE Day.

The panel would introduce dental students to the various disciplines on campus.
(particularly as they are physically separated from the HSC campus).

Panel members would introduce themselves and their discipline. Relate the discipline to dental needs. Discuss how the disciplines can collaborate.

Phuu would like to invite faculty representatives from the various disciplines to sit on the panel.

IPE members noted that consideration should be given to:
- making the event mandatory
- having an interprofessional audience
- having a neutral moderator (librarian?)
- post session breakdown

Melissa Durham volunteered to sit on panel.

Phuu Han to email potential panel dates for May/April.
IPE members will forward to faculty listservs to find additional panelists.

Other

The dental panel discussion generated the possibility of hosting other campus wide events each quarter:

- Faculty Seminar Series- to discuss professions
- IPE Grand Rounds – see how professions interact

These events could be held in the evening so that they do not interfere with the curriculum.

Karin to look for validated assessment scales and assessment processes to add to the current list, created in 2013, at http://norris.usc.libguides.com/ipe.

IPE assessment should be discussed in future meetings as IPE is now deeply integrated with accreditation standards (particularly for pharmacy).

August meeting time

Please fill out the Doodle poll (will be sent by Amy Chatfield soon) for the next date/time.
